A. Resolutions/Recognitions

1. Misty McQuese has been named the 2022 Georgia Teacher of the Year for the Healthcare Science Educators Association.

Mrs. McQuese was a registered nurse for 24 years before she became a Healthcare Science teacher. Her experience has brought a great deal of success to our students. This past spring, 21 of the 25 students passed their state and national credentialing exams! Those students are now Work-Ready as Certified Nursing Assistants, Patient Care Technicians, and Certified Clinical Medical Assistants.

Also, after two years of hard work, the Chattooga High School Healthcare Science program has achieved Industry Certification accreditation. This process takes a lot of intense work to meet all the Georgia requirements to become an industry certified program. Mrs. McQuese and her students hosted business members from our community and representatives from the state Healthcare field as they evaluated her program and its ability to prepare students to be successful in the medical field. She received full Industry Certification status in March 2022, and she was commended for being such a great role model for her students.

Thank you, Mrs. McQuese, for a job well done. We appreciate your passion and dedication to our students and your program.
